

Want to make your community more resilient?

Want to develop your knowledge and skills in providing energy advice?

Interested in helping people in your community lower their energy costs?

COULD YOU BE A LOCAL ENERGY CHAMPION?

WARM TOGETHER CYMRU

Warm Together Cymru is a three-year project from National Energy Action (NEA), specifically designed to help households and communities across Wales.

You'll start by developing your knowledge around providing energy advice through an online workshop. This will cover energy saving tips, fuel rights, how to help vulnerable and low-income households and a wider picture of fuel poverty in Wales, including the network of support and energy advice services available.

You'll then develop your skills in providing energy advice by working alongside NEA at public-facing events in your local community.

You'll get further ongoing support, resources and access to further training opportunities through NEA.

Who are we looking for?

We're looking for someone who is self-motivated and has strong connections within their community. You could be keen to support family, friends and neighbours, or already work for an organisation that advocates for energy and sustainability and want to develop.

Please note this is an unpaid voluntary opportunity.
